

Monthly Executive Business Performance Report: March 2025

REP-EXEC-2025-M03 | Confidential | Executive Board

1. Executive Summary

This report summarizes retail operations and performance metrics for the month of March 2025. Total revenue was moderately impacted due to severe supply chain bottlenecks and localized stockouts.

2. Sales & Revenue Summary

Overall monthly sales volumes were lower than the seasonal projections. Although categories like Apparel and Home & Kitchen performed steadily, the Electronics category experienced a sharp decline in sales volume.

3. Critical Supply Chain Event: Product A Shortage

On March 5, 2025, Warehouse A experienced a major operations stoppage (registered as 'Warehouse A Delay') due to automated sorting system failures. This halted the receipt of all inbound electronics shipments.

As a direct consequence, the inventory level of Product A (P001) fell to 0. The stockout persisted throughout March 2025, as shown in the weekly inventory log ('Out of Stock' status).

This supply chain gap led to zero sales records for Product A in the month of March, resulting in an estimated sales loss of approximately $15,000. Normal inventory flow was successfully restored in April 2025.
